Whose Estate Is This? Why Is It For Sale?

A very wealthy man chose over sixty-five ares of land, the cream of Westchester County, about twefty-two minutes from New York, in the Purchase section and built up a wonderful estate, without regard to cost a house of brick, of simple dignified design, with sactous living rooms, eight master bedrooms, four baths, mple servants quarters, and every modern convenience. Hi developed the land into acres of green lawns, quiet pinds, beautiful flower gardens and fertile vegetable garders, and part of it he left in green meadows and woodland, over which his view extends to the bite waters of the Sound. He built all the necessary outbuildings in keeping withthe house, and now—he is going to sell—and the price is rit based on the cost—it is made mighty attractive for a quck sale.
